JAMES CASTEEL
KILLED BY STEPSON*At Dawson Springs Wednesday
Morning—Boy Claims
Self Defence*MOTHER INJURED DURING FIGHT

Willie Burden, the sixteen year old stepson of J. W. Casteel, shot and killed his stepfather at Dawson Springs Wednesday morning. From the best information the Bee's correspondent could gain there had been previous quarrels between the boy and his stepfather and also between Casteel and his wife on the boy's account, as Casteel had attempted to drive the boy away home. On the morning of the tragedy Casteel began abusing the boy and said in substance he would have to look out for another home, that he would not permit him to stay around there any longer. Angry words passed and Casteel is said to have made at the boy with a chair, the mother of the boy, who was sick in bed, got up and attempted to take the chair from her husband. In the fight that followed she was cut and bruised about the head and arm. When the mother and son succeeded in getting the chair from Casteel he made for the pistol in the bureau drawer, but the boy got there first drew the pistol and fired. The ball must have split as only one shot was fired and two wounds were made, one in the side and the other in the temple of Casteel who died in a short time. The boy immediately surrendered to Marshal Ligon telling him he was forced to kill Casteel to save his own life and possibly that is of his mother. He was taken to Madisonville for his examining trial.

Saved His Wife's Life.

"My wife would have been in her grave today," writes O. H. Brown, of Muscadine, Ala. "If it had not been Dr. King's New Discovery. She was down in her bed, not able to get up without help. She had a severe bronchial trouble and a dreadful cough. I got her a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, and she soon began to mend, and was well in a short time." Infallible for coughs and colds, its the most reliable remedy on earth for desperate lung trouble, hemorrhages, la-grippe, asthma, hay fever, croup and whooping cough. 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by all druggists.

DIG 20-FOOT WELL TO GET CHILD'S DEAD BODY*Infant Was in Hole Nearly Two Days—
Rope Broke and Prevented Rescue

Spragfield, Tenn., June 27.—After being in a drilled well for nearly two days while hundreds of citizens attempted its rescue, the 3-year-old daughter of Leonard Savage was brought to the surface tonight, dead, in the presence of 500 people. Once the child was pulled to within a few feet of the top of the well when the rope broke and the little one fell again to the bottom.

The well was so small in diameter that a grown person could not get into it. The body was finally recovered by digging a side well twenty-nine feet deep and tunneling to the drilled well.

For that distressed feeling after eating, belching and nausea between meals, take Bloodine. It cures Dyspepsia by strengthening the digestive organs, so that they are capable of fulfilling their functions. St. Bernard Mining Co., Incorporated, drug department, special agents.

Life Tenure For Judge

An effort will be made to obtain for Kentucky judges a life tenure of office, at the meeting of the Bar Association, to be held in Lexington in July.

Mr. E. P. Trabue of Louisville, will advance this plan.

It is probable that a bill will be introduced at the next session of the Legislature favoring the election of the judges of the Courts of Appeals and the circuit courts to a life term at higher salaries than are now paid.

Blisters on the hands, burns, scalds, old sores, lame back and rheumatism are all subject to the great healing and penetrating power of BALLARDS SNOW LIMENT. It is a marvelous pain relief. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by St. Bernard Mining Co., Incorporated, Drug Department.

T. L. LOGAN RESIGNS POSITIONPopular Young Man Leaves Earlinton
—Will Likely be Candidate For Sheriff

T. L. Logan, manager of the Grand Leader Store at this place, has resigned his position and his plans are not yet known. Mr. Logan has made quite a large number of friends while here and in fact there has not been a man heard to say one word against him, he has been with us for one year and his leaving will be to Earlinton the loss of a good citizen and an up-to-date business man. Notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Logan followed a good business man, the business was not impeded in its progress and Mr. Kohlman stated this morning that Mr. Logan's management of the business had been entirely satisfactory to him and in his leaving he considered that he had lost a very valuable man. Mr. Kohlman does not know just yet what steps he will take in regard to the store.

One thing to be said of Mr. Logan is that he conducted his business on such a high basis that he not only satisfied his customers and employer but gained the respect of his competitors as he was never known to do a little thing or make uncomplimentary remarks in regard to them.

Mr. Logan is being boosted as a candidate for sheriff of this county for the next term and from the voice of the people will no doubt be a dangerous antagonist. He was a deputy in that office before coming here and in his leaving Sheriff Stanley stated the county lost one of the most efficient men that had ever been connected with the office. It is likely that Mr. Logan will not accept any place until the primary is over which according to custom will be held next spring.

The uniform success that has attended the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has made it a favorite everywhere. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all dealers.

SINGLETON KIMMELL RESIGNSWas For Several Years on St. Bernard Engineering Force

Singleton Kimmell, of Henderson, who has been a member of the St. Bernard engineering corps for several years past, has resigned his position and returned to his home in Henderson. Mr. Kimmell's departure is regretted by numerous friends and by his associates in a business way here. It is understood that he has had offers of employment similar to the work he did here but that he has not accepted any place as yet. He will probably for a time remain at home and will go to Missouri to look after timber on other lands in which he and his father, Major M. M. Kimmell, and family are interested. No announcement has been made as to the filling of the vacancy caused by Mr. Kimmell's resignation.

PECULIAR CASEHorse Tethered to Tree in Lonely Spot
Dies of Starvation—Owner Unknown

A rather strange and inhumane story is reported from Lisman.

Tom Wallace, brother of Marshal Jack Wallace, of that city, in making a trip to a tobacco bed to draw plants several days ago, ran upon a pitiable and gruesome sight. In an unfrequented wood lot on the farm of Mrs. Jenkins, he discovered the carcass of a horse almost eaten by vultures. The animal had been left there by some one, securely tied to a tree by a rope, and had evidently died of starvation, as all the bark within reach of him had been gnawed off the trunk of the tree and its branches. Hair on the head and neck showed that the horse had been a dark bay in color and the carcass showed him to have been a good sized animal. How it came to be tied up in that out-of-the-way place and who the owner can be, is a mystery, as no one in that community has a horse missing. It is believed by some that the animal was left there by some horse thief in passing through, who fearing detection, had tied it up in this secluded spot with the intention of returning for it, but had been thwarted in his plans.

Take HERBINE for all disturbances in the bowels. It purifies the bowel channels, promotes regular movements and makes you feel bright, vigorous and cheerful. Price 50c. Sold by St. Bernard Mining Co., Incorporated, Drug Department.

His First Bath.

Oliver H. Curtis, the well-known sociologist of Omaha, said in a recent lecture:

"But our slums are much cleaner than the old, old slums of Europe. Our slum denizens are cleaner, too. Among us it is unusual to see children in woolen underwear for the winter—not so abroad—and I once heard in Hungary of a case that you will hardly credit."

"A man was arrested for stealing a pig, and they told him he must take a bath before entering the cell."

"What! Take a bath?" the man cried, in horrified voice.

"Yes," said the jailer. How long has it been since you had a bath?" "So help me," said the prisoner solemnly, "I never was arrested before—never."—Los Angeles Times.

A Peek Into His Pocket

Madisonville Notes

BY AILEEN DAVIS.

Mrs. Gordon Entertains Visitors

Mrs. M. K. Gordon very charmingly entertained Monday evening at Loch Mary, in Earlinton, in honor of Miss Nonie Fay Carrington and Messrs. Cheatham and Sterling Carrington, of Durham, N. C., the charming guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Barnhill in this city. The beautiful grove surrounding Loch Mary was brilliantly lighted with Japanese lanterns and candles, and throughout the evening the orchestra from Hopkinsville entertained the young people with many beautiful selections. Delicious ices and cakes were served by this charming hostess, being assisted by Mrs. R. L. Bone.

Those invited included: Misses Nona Fay Carrington, Vida Barnett, Ruth McNeil, Flora McCann, of Paducah, Margaret and Louise McPherson, Beatrice Ray, Frances Elgin, Nancy Kirkwood, Lurleen Coile, Aileen Davis, Elizabeth, Margaret and Katherine Victory, of Earlinton, Messrs. William Osborne, William Ross, Mack Hoffman, Neal Spillman, Miller and Ben Evans, of Earlinton, Roy Wilson, Morton McPherson, Montgomery Holmes, Sam Arnold, Lisle Robinson, Cheatham and Sterling Carrington, Chas. Lynn, Mrs. Lonie Bailey, Miss Florence Howard and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Daves, of Earlinton.

Return to Southern Home

After a most enjoyable visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Barnhill and other relatives in this city, Mrs. W. T. Carrington and daughter Miss Nonie Fay Carrington and Messrs. Sterling and Cheatham Carrington left Tuesday morning for a short visit to friends in Springfield, Tenn., before returning to their home in Durham, N. C. They have been entertained extensively since their short stay here, and their many friends regretted very much to see them leave.

BEACHEY DARESGRIM NIAGARA*Aviator Flies Over Falls and Down Narrow Whirlpool Gorge

Niagara Falls, June, 27.—In the presence of 150,000 persons Lincoln Beachy, the California aviator, today after circling above the falls, swooped beneath the arches of the upper steel bridge and down the gorge almost to the whirlpool.

Rising again beneath the sides of the lower river, Beachy soared to the Canadian side, where he made a successful landing.

The space through which he flew was 168 feet in height, and barely 100 feet side to side.

Beachy will repeat the flight tomorrow.

Beachy was seen at Evansville a few weeks ago, when many Earlinton visitors saw him perform in the air.

Whooping cough is not dangerous when the cough is kept loose and exceptions easy by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It has been used in many epidemics of this disease with perfect success. For sale by all dealers.

Somewhat Ambiguous

HERE is some graveyard poetry recently found on a tombstone in Coldwater:

"Here lies our wife, Samantha Proctor, Who ketched a cold and would not doctor.

She could not stay, she had to go. Praise God from Whom all blessings flow!"

A Few Facts About Liver Trouble.

A dull, sluggish liver always brings a dull, sluggish feeling to the entire body. When the liver works properly the blood choruses through the body in a bright red stream. When the liver is inactive the blood becomes dull and muddy, and it is full of poisonous matter. A great many people try to get fine, clear, pink and complexion by rubbing things on their faces. They might rub a life time and the same yellow complexion would remain—for the liver causes it. Only bright, red blood brings fine complexions. Blood loaded with impurities from the liver sends the impurities out through the pores of the skin a brownish yellow.

To get rid of the dull, heavy feeling and muddy, yellow complexion get the liver in working again. Two 50c bottles of BLOODINE will do it. Struggling with Constipation and Straining use BLOODINE LIVER PILLS with the BLOODINE.

BLOODY SHOE FOUNDNear I. C. Track at Nortonville—No
Clew to Owner

A tan shoe with streaks of blood on it was found along the I. C. track at Nortonville Thursday and caused some excitement. The shoe was apparently new and but little worn, it was cut almost into by the wheels of the train passing over it. A freight crew reported that a man had jumped from the train as it was passing the town and was thought to be hurt. When the searchers arrived nothing of the man could be found but the shoe. A search was made through the woods and surrounding fields but nothing came of it, and it is a case of doubt to the Nortonville people whether his swift feet are making pigeon toes tracks in the ever shifting sands of eternity, or whether he succeeded in catching another train and left for parts unknown.

Don't think that piles can't be cured. Thousands of obstinate cases have been cured by Doan's Ointment. 50 cents at any drug store.

Rural Route Carriers Get Raise

Beginning with next July all the rural mail carriers having a standard route of 24 miles, will receive a raise in salary of $100 per year, which will make their yearly salary $1,000 instead of $900 as it is now. Those below the standard will receive an increase in proportion to the number of miles traveled in delivering their mail. Their increase will be the third one granted the carriers since the department was established in 1903. The original pay of the carriers was $600 per year. This was increased to $750 two years later and in 1907 to $900.

Gas in the stomach comes from food which has fermented. Get rid of this badly digested food as quickly as possible if you would avoid a bilious attack; HERBINE is the remedy you need. Why a Flying Machine Flies

An aeroplane being any flat or slightly curved surface, propelled through the air, an inquiring mind may well ask, observes that careful student of aviation, Waldemar Kaempffert; Why does it stay aloft? Why does it not fall? It is considerably heavier than air. It is the air pressure beneath the plane, and the motion of the plain, explains Mr. Kaempffert, that keep it up.

A balloon can remain stationary over a given spot in a calm, but an aeroplane must constantly move if it is to remain in the air. The monoplane and biplane of Blériot, Curtiss and the Wrights are somewhat in the position of a skater on thin ice. The skater must move fast enough to reach a new section of ice before he falls; the aeroplane must move fast enough to reach a new section of air before he falls. Hence, the aeroplane is constantly struggling with gravitation. And Mr. Waldemar Kaempffert observes further in the course of his elucidation:

"The simplest and most familiar example of an aeroplanes is the kite of our boyhood days. We all remember how we kept it aloft by holding it against the wind or by running with it if there happened to be only a gentle breeze. When the wind stopped altogether or the string broke, the kite fell. Above all things it was necessary to hold the kite's surface toward the wind,—and which we accomplished with a string.

"The eagle is an animated kite without a string; it keeps its outspread wings to the wind by muscular power. If we can find a substitute for the string, some device in other words which will enable us to hold the kite in the proper direction, we have invented a flying-machine. The pull or the thrust of an engine-driven propeller is the accepted substitute for the string of a kite and the muscles of an eagle.

"If only these simple principles were involved in a solution of the age-old problem of artificial flight, aeroplanes would have skimmed the air decades ago."—Current Literature (July.)

Lightning Kills Few.

In 1906 lightning killed only 169 people in this whole country. One's chances of death by lightning are less than two in a million. The chance of death from liver, kidney or stomach trouble is vastly greater, but not if Electric Bitters be used, as Robert Madsen, West Burlington, Ia., proved. Four doctors gave him up after eight months of suffering from virulent liver trouble and yellow jaundice. He was then completely cured by Electric Bitters. They're the best stomach, liver, nerve and kidney remedy and blood purifier on earth. Only 50c at all druggists.

L. & N. Abolishes Office of Mechanic
Louisville, Ky., June 29.—The Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company has abolished the office of Master Mechanic. C. H. Rae, formerly Master Mechanic, is made Superintendent of Machinery. E. S. Hedgecock is also promoted to Assistant Superintendent of Machinery under C. F. Giles.

Mrs. Scott and daughters Kate and Martha Lou, of Birmingham, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Trabern.

Nervous

"I was very nervous," writes Mrs. Mollie Mirse, of Carrsville, Ky., "had palpitation of the heart, and was irregular."
"On the advice of Mrs. Hattie Cain I took 2 bottles of Cardui and it did me more good than any medicine I ever took."
"I am 44 years old and the change has not left me, but I am lots better since taking Cardui."

E 54 Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Cardui is advertised and sold by its loving friends. The lady who advised Mrs. Mirse to take Cardui, had herself been cured of serious female trouble, by Cardui, so she knew what Cardui would do.

If Cardui cured Mrs. Cain and Mrs. Mirse, it surely will cure you too. Won't you try it? Please do.

Ballard's SNOW LINIMENT

It neutralizes poisons, subdues inflammation, relaxes contracted muscles and restores healthy conditions. For healing cuts, wounds, burns or scalds, there is nothing like it. It is the whole lot of "carriage agents." It cures by a mild power that is more effective than the strong, harsh liniments. When rubbed in for rheumatic pain, neuralgia or sciatica, its wonderful penetrating and relieving influence is very gratifying. It is an all-around household liniment that is useful in a thousand ways and its application is always followed by beneficial results. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00. James F. Ballard, Prop. St. Louis, Mo.

We Pay Railroad Fares

Swat the Filthy Flies Before it is Ever lastingly and Eternally too Late

WE WILL BE fighting flies soon, but not soon enough. We will wait until they swarm in myriads; we will wait until they scatter typhoid and have reaped their toll of death, and then we will resolve another season to begin a war of extermination.

If Cuba and Panama have banished yellow fever practically by the destruction of the poisonous mosquito which used to infest those lands, why can't we rise in a body and wipe the pestiferous fly that carries disease and death on polluted feet?

We can't destroy the fly by swatting him or her, but we can abolish it by making its very existence impossible. The fly is first a miserable worm, but the worm is first an egg, and if we destroy the egg by destroying their breeding grounds, we are destroying the flies without committing murder. We screen our houses to exclude flies; but does it ever occur to us to screen the garbage cans or the manure heaps? If we can't screen them, do we realize that by sprinkling these breeding places with a solution of sulphate of iron, copperas, formaldehyde or carbolic acid, the hatching of the eggs will be prevented. Fifty pounds of sulphate of iron dissolved in a barrel of water and applied with a sprinkling can occasionally will cost about 50c, and will do the work for a whole season. It may save a big doctor's bill and the life of some member of the family. We will have, besides, the satisfaction of knowing that the food we eat and the dishes we use have not been polluted by these miserable pests. Isn't it worth while?

The woman of today who has good health, good temper, good sense, bright eyes and a lovely complexion the result of correct living and good digestion, wins the admiration of the world. If your digestion is faulty Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets will correct it. For sale by all dealers.

Mrs. James McDonald and Miss Annie Davenport, of Madisonville, visited friends here Thursday.

Waste Land Grows Rubber. Wide reaches of waste land on the island of Singapore are now being set out in rubber plants, which seem to do well. In Malacca there were formerly square miles of land covered withalang, the hiding place of tigers and other big game, which have been transformed into fine rubber plantations.

THE COAL MAN'S HEAVEN

A coal man went to heaven one day.

As sometimes coal men do,

And was given a job at princely pay,

Of running a coal train through

To the Kingdom below with instructions to haul

From the fiery brimstone bars

All the railroad men whom he could recall,

Who had failed to give him cars.

So a message he sent to the realms of Hell

For the railroad men to be

On the watch for his train, and he rang the bell.

With a chuckle of fiendish glee,

And the men lined up as they writhed in pain

On the fiery brimstone bars,

But when the coal man showed up with his train,

They saw he had no cars.

And as through the endless cycle of years

The railroad men line up

With hope dispelled, with groans and tears,

As they drain the bitter cup

But the coal man makes his run on time

From the gates of pearl to the fiery bars,

And the railroad men in anguish chime,

No cars, my God, no cars.

—J. W. Fisher, in The Bill of Lading.

COULDN'T GET BEST OF HIM

How One of the Old-Time Yankee Peddlers Made a Trade in a Southern Town.

The genuine Yankee peddler passed out of existence with the creation of the "notion store," but he was a most interesting character, astonishingly "sharp," and frequently amusing. One such appeared in a general store in a southern town on one occasion, deposited his pack on the floor, and remarked to the merchant:

"I guess I couldn't drive a trade with you, colonel?"

"I reckon you calculate just about right!" was the decided reply of the merchant, who had "had dealings" with Yankee peddlers on previous occasions. "Get out!"

"O, well, don't get riled up—no harm done. Now, just look at this dozen genuine razor strops, easy worth three dollars—let you have 'em for two dollar, colonel."

"I wouldn't touch any of your trash—you get out!" the merchant declared.

"Well, now, colonel, I always like to do some business in a place. Tell you what—I'll bet you five dollars that if you make me an offer for them strops, we'll make a trade."

"I'll go you," said the merchant, "and," he added, when the stakes had been put up, "I'll give you a quarter for the strops!"

"They're yours, colonel!" said the Yankee, pocketing the wager.

Some Influence.

This letter recently was received by a southern congressman: "I'm here in prison for moonshining, and I want to get out. Please arrange to have me released soon as I want to get out. I will give you the names of seven influential citizens who will co-operate with you toward getting me out. They are also here in prison with me for moonshining."

WOMAN'S LIFE IN PORTUGAL

She Does Most of the Farm Work and Shares in Heavy Labor of the Cities.

A good part of the farm work in Portugal is performed by the women, who see no reason why they should regard digging, hoeing and plowing as the work of men alone. The man who owns a few acres of land will often leave its cultivation to his wife and daughters, while he labors as carpenter, stonemason or cooper, for cash-making is one of their important industries. He also likes to get a job as a waiter in one of the numerous hotels at seaside resorts, for the country has thousands of continental and English visitors. Women share in the heavy work of the cities as well. There are female porters, laborers on the docks, market tenders, and even women coal-heavers, fishermen, or rather fisherwomen, and sailors. They are as strong and hardy as their husbands and brothers and seem to stand long hours and hard labor as well.

Of course it rather takes away the glamour of romance when one sees a young woman with finely chiseled features and beautiful black eyes digging with spade and mattock or heaving a basket of coal into a ship's hold with as much ease as the American girl plays tennis and golf. They seem happy under what we would consider hard conditions, so the reformer would probably have his labor for his pains if he suggested a change in this department of Portuguese national existence.—The Christian Herald.

FEEDING NOT VERY SIMPLE

Cheerful Company at a Meal and Eliciting Food Are Decided Helps to Digestion.

Robust people, so long as they get what suits their own uncultivated taste, are apt to make very light of what they call "fancies" about food, and overlook their real importance. Feeding on the part of civilized man is not the simple procedure which it is with animals, although many animals are particular as to their food and what is called "daintiness." The necessity for civilized man of cheerful company at his meal and for the absence of mental anxiety is universally recognized, as well as the importance of an inviting appeal to the appetite through the sense of smell and of sight, while the injurious effect of the reverse conditions, which may lead to nausea and even vomiting, is admitted.

Even the ceremonial features of the dinner table, the change of clothes, the leisurely yet precise succession of approved and expected dishes, accompanied by pleasant talk and light-hearted companionship, are shown by strict scientific examination to be important aids to the healthy digestion of food, which need not be large in quantity, because wisely presented.—London Telegraph.

Primitive Bookkeeping.

There is an old merchant in a thriving little town near Minneapolis who scorns a paper ledger, and insists on keeping a pine board account with his customers. He planes this board off every five months and starts a new account. The other day a man came into the old merchant's store to pay a balance of 40 cents. "I guess you don't owe me anything," replied the old trader to a question about the debt. The customer protested that he did owe the debt; in fact, he remembered buying the goods some six months ago. "Oh, well, five months alters the case," said the weigher of sugar and coffee. "You may owe me 40 cents, for all I know. You see I've up and started a new board since you got your goods, and I don't remember your debt. You may pay me if you want to, but, if you don't, it's all O. K., as I've shaved your account out." The trader got his 40 cents.

FREE ADVICE TO WOMEN

Women suffering from any form of illness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established this confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Never has she published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the Company allowed these confidential letters to get out of their possession, as the hundreds of thousands of them in their files will attest.

Out of the vast volume of experience which Mrs. Pinkham has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge needed in your case. She asks nothing in return except your good will, and her advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Address Mrs. Pinkham, care of Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Every woman ought to have Lydia E. Pinkham's 80-page Text Book. It is not a book for general distribution, as it is too expensive. It is free and only obtainable by mail. Write for it today.

McLEAN OFFICIALS ARE CRITICISED

Ohio County Also in on Report of McKenzie Todd

Frankfort, Ky., June 28.—State Inspector McKintie Todd has filed with the governor his report on the investigation he recently made of the offices in Ohio and McLean counties.

As the result of his investigation the inspector turned into the state treasury the sum of $1,404, collected from former officials of Ohio county and $415 from McLean county.

The inspector also commends the county judge and county clerk of Ohio county for the business-like manner in which they conduct their respective offices, but criticises the practice of the commonwealth's attorney and the county attorney in collecting fines, which they have no authority to do under the law, this power being delegated to the sheriff and trustee of the jury fund only.

Any woman with pimples, skin eruptions, sores or boils does not appear attractive and cannot enjoy life. Bloodine Ointment cures them and makes the skin soft and velvety. Cures cold sores, cracked lips, chapped hands, sore eyes, itching and bleeding piles. St. Bernard Mining Co., Incorporated, drug department, special agents.

Swedish "Church Boat."
The "church boat" is a popular institution in Sweden. It brings families to service from the farms around Lake Siljan to Leksand. The water route is the nearest and most convenient, and so the big boat goes from farm to farm along the shore picking up the churchgoers, who later return by the same route.—Wide World Magazine.

"Four" Tabooed in Japan.
The number four is in great disfavor in Japan, because its name, "shi," is the term for death. There are no fours or forty-fours in the telephone directories of that country.

Simplicity in Dress

As the ordinary man was smiling genially while getting into his overcoat after breakfast the little woman deemed the moment propitious for making casual mention of her need of a check. So she spoke briefly on that interesting subject.

The genial smile faded instantaneously from the face of the ordinary man. He halted in the midst of buttoning his glove to remark witheringly: "If there's one thing I'd like to know it's where you throw away your money."

The little woman remained meekly silent. This action on her part, since it gave him no fuel for his wrath, made him doubly angry. "There's Day's wife," he exploded. "She could wear diamonds to the difference in Day's income and mine. Yet what does she wear? The plainest, simplest, neatest looking outfit on the street! But you must have braids and laces and frills—and I must pay for them!" The vials of his wrath being thus emptied, he paused to recharge them.

In the silence thus created the little woman made a timid suggestion. Couldn't the ordinary man get away from the office just a little while to help her find a suit that would meet his views of simplicity?

The ordinary man looked at her shrewdly. He did not like to be taken in and his suspicions were aroused by this unusual request. Her face, however, was so patiently guileless as he had ever seen it, so he accepted her suggestion.

"Hurry and get ready, then," said the ordinary man, "and I'll help you get fitted out in half an hour."

So the shopping tour began. "Shall we look at suits first?" questioned the little woman, as she led the way to the suit department where you can buy them ready-made.

The ordinary man gave his assent. "Something simple, dark and not too high priced," requested the little woman. The ordinary man nodded his approval.

The saleswoman brought out half a dozen suits.

"Do you call those simple?" inquired the ordinary man, wondering, almost sarcastically.

"They're the simplest we have at that price," returned the saleswoman, politely, as she removed the offensive suits without displaying them and went in search of others.

"Those were $35," murmured the little woman thoughtfully.

The ordinary man said nothing, but in his mind he was busy figuring an approximate cost of the trimmings and of the labor of putting them on and deducting the whole from $35. He nodded his head wisely.

The saleswoman brought another armful of suits. She held them up to view. They were simple, but not of the Mrs. Day simplicity. They had velvet cuffs and collars and light colored linings and the cut of the coats was of the most extreme pattern. Still, they had none of that offensive and expensive braid and—

The meditations of the ordinary man were cut short, for his wife whispered softly, "Those suits are $45, dear."

It staggered him to think of the price of velvet. Enough only for collar and cuffs, it seemed, was worth $10 over and above the price of braid with its application! He shook his head in disapproval. Then, in well controlled exasperation, he requested the saleswoman to be so kind as to let him see just a plain, simple, unadorned suit.

The saleswoman understood. She hurried away and soon returned with a single suit, held carefully on a hanger.

"That's something like!" exclaimed the ordinary man, appreciatively, as his eye took in the simple lines of the outfit, with its mannish finish, its cloth collar and cuffs, its heavy, good wearing quality and its all around common sense appearance.

"That's what we've been looking for," he commenced as his wife slipped into the coat. It fitted perfectly. Everything was satisfactory. "Charge this suit and send it out," he said briskly.

"And the price?" queried the little woman, as she and the ordinary man turned to go.

"Eighty dollars," responded the saleswoman, easily.

She was busy making out the check, so didn't see the look on the face of the ordinary man.

The little woman was possessed of much tact. She bent quietly over an odd garment displayed near by until the ordinary man had recovered. Then they walked silently to the elevator.

Porter "Got in Wrong."

A new porter was being inducted into office at the Ritz-Carlton and had been the butt of all sorts of fun, good natured and otherwise. Therefore when an important man from Boston telephoned downstairs to know when the Merchants' Limited would get in the porter chortled with glee as he thought this was the time when he would get even with somebody for the indignities put upon him.

"It gets in after the engine, you boob!" he shouted into the receiver. It took a lot of diplomacy to smooth that Bostonian down and keep the porter's job for him.—New York Sun.

Women as Well as Men are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers who found Swamp-Root to be just the remedy needed. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

COLDS AFFECT THE KIDNEYS

Many Earlington People Have Found This to be True

Are you wretched in bad weather? Does every cold settle on your kidneys?

Does your back ache and become weak?

Are urinary passages irregular and distressing?

These symptoms show kidney weakness.

The kidneys need quick help.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure kidney suffering.

Earlington people say so.

Mrs. Francis Rutherford, Earlington, Ky., says: "For over three years I suffered from weak kidneys and dull pains through the small of my back and whenever I did any work that required lifting, sharp, shooting twinges passed through my loins. My back ached at night and when I arose in the morning I was very stiff and lame. I generally dul, languid and was also bothered by nervousness. Headaches were common and I had dizzy spells, during which there was a blurring of my sight. The kidney secretions were unnatural, and if I caught cold it settled on my kidneys and at such times my suffering was aggravated. Learning of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box and received relief in a short time after commencing their use. I continued taking them until I had finished the contents of two boxes, at which time I was completely cured."

POULTRY

TWELVE-DOLLAR HEN HOUSE

Serviceable Shelter is Constructed Out of Sod, Straw, Corn Fodder and Earth.

What results would you expect from 75 hens wintered in a coop of this cost? I had 75 May-hatched pullets in winter, says a writer in Rural New Yorker. I built a coop 12x18 feet, inside measurement. The material was sod for the sides; the roof was straw, covered with corn fodder; the floor, Nature's deodorizer, natural earth. I first selected a well sheltered location, then proceeded by setting three crotches, each crotch set three feet deep. This for the peak of my roof. Next I set ordinary six-foot fence posts on sides four feet apart, two feet deep, leaving sides of coop four feet high, plenty high enough for sides of any coop. Then I spiked poles on to those fence posts on top, and nailed on small poles on side posts; laid poles in those center crotches, then laid poles from post plate to crotch poles for rafters, and my frame was complete. I put in a window frame of plank on south side 2x8 feet, covered same with muslin curtain (no glass); put door in east end. I cut sod and sodded up sides; put a little brush crosswise for rafter poles, covered with straw and shingled with corn fodder. The foundation of my coop is raised slightly so water runs away from it, which is very important. So my labor and all would amount to about $12. I put pullets in coop in December and they soon began laying. In January, February, March and April I averaged close to five dozen eggs per day. My income was a little better than one dollar per day, clear of feed; and they have continued laying well all summer till molting this fall. Now they are through the molt and are going right into the egg producing business again.

HANGING ROOST FOR CHICKS

Suspended From Ceiling by Means of Wires They Are Convenient in Cleaning Houses.

It is often convenient to have roosts hung from the ceiling of the poultry house in order to facilitate cleaning. In the style illustrated herewith, the roosts themselves are laid on a frame as shown, says Farm and Home. At each end the roosts are notched so as to fit in notches on the two poles and thus prevent slipping. The whole thing is hung by four stout wires from the center of the pen so as to be within 2 feet of the floor; or it may be hung toward one corner. In this case, at least 2 feet should be allowed between the frame and the wall so the attendant can easily walk all around. For cleaning, the roosts may be disconnected and carried out of doors. Preferably also, the poles should rest in loops of the wire, so that the whole thing may be removed without difficulty.

Hanging Roost.

POULTRY NOTES

A load of coarse sand is good for the chickens.

Be sure the houses are all free from lice and filth.

If you want your hens to lay during the cold months they must be given food rich in egg material.

Cures of poultry troubles lie in preventing sickness in the flock and not in curing the disease or disorder.

Hens fed on one kind of grain exclusively will not lay as satisfactory as those that have been fed a variety of grains.

Oats make an excellent grain for laying hens. They furnish the essential food element without increasing the fat on the hen.

Give the hens good feed, clean water, a good dust bath and clean, airy, comfortable quarters, and the egg supply is reasonably certain.

Separate the cockerels from the pullets. They are of no earthly use, but on the contrary do harm. They should be castrated or sent to market.

Alfalfa hay, if cut in the bloom, is fine for chickens to pick over during the winter months. They will get more at less cost from ground alfalfa.

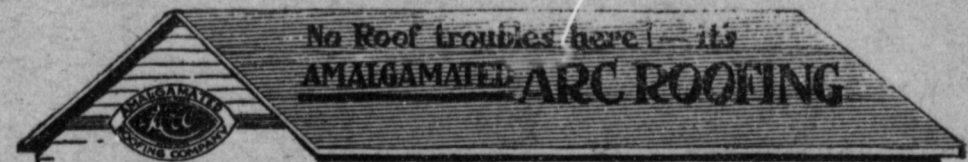

If your chicken-house faces north, board up the openings and transfer them to the south side and make them big enough to allow the sunshine to flood the floor.

There's Not a Store in Town That Would, in Six Months From Now, Be Half as Important as It Is Now, if It Should Stop Advertising During That Time!

Isn't that perfectly true—perfectly logical? Can you imagine any store of which it would not be true?

And, if true, does it not follow that the reverse of the proposition is true, too—that the store that doubles its accustomed advertising for the next six months will also double its accustomed store growth for that period?

And does not this, also, apply to any store you can think of in this town?

WE DO ONLY THE BEST JOB WORK

THE FOURTH of July parade is always an event that interests everybody; but it's a passing interest; in a few days, or even hours, we think of something else.

The thing that the 4th of July stands for, however, doesn't pass; it is a perpetual interest; and it knows no section or place; it's the same North, South, East, and West; and it ought to be.

You may think that patriotism and good clothes have nothing to do with each other; but the element of loyalty to one's country may be applied to the selling of good clothes; and we're trying to apply it to our business. The right sort of a patriot makes the country's interest his interest; the right sort of a business man makes his customer's interest his interest.

There are people who say that can't be done in business; but that's because there is a general idea, very common, that your interests as a buyer of clothes, and ours as sellers, are somehow opposed; that we're trying to gain something that you lose. It's a great mistake; and we are proving daily how mistaken a view that is.

Hart Schaffner & Marx

clothes, for example; every time we sell a suit of these clothes we serve the best interests of the man who buys them, in a way that no other clothes made would do it. You pay a fair price for them; and we make a profit on them, the question of price and profit are less important to either of us than the question of value given and received.

Hart Schaffner & Marx summer suits; cool, thin, dressy, perfectly tailored, of honest all-wool weaves, $18 and up.

It's easy with such a standard of quality to measure by, to bring all our other goods to that standard. We do it in shirts, summer underwear, fine hosiery, neckwear, skirts, waists, summer piece goods, white goods, millinery, footwear. Everything to wear; all bought and sold on mutual benefit basis. We are complete outfitters of men, women and children.
